

ProfSoft University 2006

September 13-15, 2006

ProfSoft is proud to announce our 3rd annual ProfSoft University program. This year we will be gathering in the historic seaport of Mystic, Connecticut a showcase for the myths and legends of America's seagoing traditions.

We have planned an informative and exciting 1 ½ days of workshops and collaboration with presentations from your colleagues highlighting the issues they are confronting and how they are using the software. Prior to the main conference we will also be conducting two optional 'pre-conference' sessions. One of these sessions will be of particular interest to clinical managers. The other will be a training session for intermediate to advanced users.

A cocktail/dessert party is planned for Wednesday evening to welcome everyone aboard. Thursday's session will culminate with dinner and entertainment. Both evenings will enable you to network with other attendees in a casual and relaxed setting.

We invite you to explore the friendly charm of this coastal community by visiting Olde Mystic Village with sixty unique shoppe's and restaurants as well as the Mystic Marine Life Aquarium all within strolling distance of our location.

We look forward to seeing you there!
